

The Artists
behind the Cheech and Chong My Homies NFT collection.

Billy Perkins

Billy Perkins is known in the community for his psychedelic POAPs, including this one that five artists remixed. This was given out for the first My Homies online event.

Killer Napkins

Killer Napkins' local Minneapolis artist Jason Spencer recreated a green gremlin riding a Harley with bug eyes and wearing a Mickey Mouse hat.

Nate Bear

Nate Bear, an illustrator and character designer from NYC, is known for his retro cartoony-ness blended with bright colors and dynamic expressions.

Mobsolete

Mobsolete, the creative pseudonym for Houston-based artist Mark Williamson, creates posters, shirts, skateboards, and NFTs for collectors and clients around the world.

Mariana Martins

Mariana Martins is an animator, sculptor, painter, and digital artist.

Kahncept

Kahncept, Chief Creative Officer at Grey Midwest, brings his diverse background in NFTs, film, TV, and game development to his innovative work.

Billy Perkins

Billy Perkins' "Ride Low Live High" POAP was remixed by five artists with a fun stoner style.

Hood Van Gogh

Hood Van Gogh is an illustrator, designer, and director working in web3 NFTs, creating art for a range of different brands, record labels, and cannabis brands.

Violetta Melnikova

Violetta Melnikova is a multidisciplinary artist, painter, and illustrator based in Milan, Italy, whose work invites the viewer to reconnect with natural forces and ancient spirits.

Sam Pierson

Sam Pierson, a professional artist, illustrator, and designer from Denver, captures attention with shocking, rebellious, and iconic imagery that breaks the rules of design.

Lunch Pipe

Bill Cleveland's art is characterized by his unique style. This remix is lit.

Killer Napkins

Killer Napkins created a remixed version of Billy Perkins Low Rider. The image features Cheech and Chong staring stoned at their tricked-out car being driven by the green gremlin from the first airdrop.

Hao Goodman

Hao Goodman's 420-themed art features aliens abducting Cheech and Chong and their bags of weed. "Feels Hao Man"

Henry Loco

Henry "Loco" Contreras designs from pencil sketches and loves screen printing.

Vincent Ghoste

Vincent Ghoste is an award-winning illustrator and muralist.

Kyle Confehr

Kyle Confehr, an ambidextrous artist, designer, and friend from Philadelphia, blurs the lines between art and graffiti with nostalgia, humor, and personal experience.

Kahncept

Kahncept's artwork features Cheech and Chong smoking a joint and watching a cow get abducted. It's a playful and imaginative piece that captures the spirit of the My Homies NFT collection.

Jesse Simpson

For a few years, Jesse Simpson on his instagram account @noiserover has developed a totally crazy world. He included some of it in his 420 airdrop art.

Sean Keeton

Sean Keeton's paintings are a manic, day-glo, punk rock celebration of what makes us relatable and vibrant.

Tayen Kim

Tayen Kim is a Los Angeles–based artist with a BFA from Otis College of Art and Design.

Joey Howell

Joey Howell, a graphic designer from Maine, specializes in illustration and brand design.

Mariana Martins

Marina Martins' astronaut riding a Harley in space is out of this world! The artwork features a neon color palette that is sure to mesmerize stoners and space enthusiasts alike. It's a trippy journey through the galaxy that will leave you craving more.

Wooden Cyclops

Wooden Cyclops, a 2D artist and illustrator from Portland, OR, is influenced by psychedelic trips, Mad magazine, and 80s/90s skate culture.

Fin89

Fin89's beautiful woman is holding a giant ball of dab and invites us to celebrate cannabis oil on 710 day.

Violetta Melnikova

The Honey drips on 710!

AYE

Aye's artwork features a skull with its mouth open, showing off the intricate honeycomb inside. It's a visually stunning piece that captures the essence of the 710 celebration, and will have stoners everywhere nodding in approval.

Nate Bear

Nate Bear's artwork for the 710 drop is a clever nod to cannabis oil culture. The piece can be turned upside down to reveal the word oil.

Hood Van Gogh

Hood Van Gogh's Alice in Wonderland-themed art features Cheech and Chong's characters lost in Wonderland. Looks fun.

Joey Howell

Joey Howell's Alice in Wonderland-themed art features enormous feet and a little bud seen in both his air drop pieces.

Eva Crawford

Eva Crawford is a multi-disciplinary designer with over 15 years of experience in print and digital design tools.

Mobsolute

Mobsolute invited us into his lime-green trippy world with a stoned crew sipping on some tee waiting for Alice.

Kahncept

Kahncept brings us the Cheshire cat, and if you look closely, you can see Cheech and Chong hanging out in the clock.

Pop Wonder

Pop Wonder is an illustrator and designer
from Portland,
Oregon.

Cat Dirty

Cat Dirty is a fantastic artist, dad, and skater.

Brian Romero

Brian Romero is a freelance artist from Michigan, known for his eye-popping colors, wild character designs, and hand-drawn typography.

Hood Van Gogh

Get ready to kick back and relax with Cheech and Chong on the couch! In this piece by Hood Van Gogh, our favorite duo takes on a Beavis and Butthead–esque appearance, Don't be scared of this Hellblazer.

Wooden Cyclops

Wooden Cyclops' artwork for the Halloween drop is the perfect blend of spooky and stoney. The piece features a drawing of Frankenstein with his face made up entirely of big green joints. It's a creative and unique take on the classic monster, and one that will resonate with stoners everywhere.

Billy Perkins

Billy Perkins' 12/22 POAP is a must-have for collectors. This was the last Proof of Attendance Protocol given out in 2022 during the Cheech and Chong Mic Drop.

Billy Perkins

Billy Perkins drew Cheech and Chong geared up for the one-year My Homies anniversary, mimicking their song "Chebornek."

The first collaboration between two artists. This was celebrating our second airdrop on 420.

Fiiidgt

Fiiidgt's piece is a true masterpiece that captures the essence of 420 culture. The face is composed of continuous lines that create a sense of depth and dimension, while the hands holding a glowing 420 add a touch of magic and wonder to the piece.

Violetta Melinkova

Violetta's piece is a beautiful depiction of a woman enjoying a joint. The smoke flows with her hair and the clouds, creating a surreal and dreamy atmosphere. The warm and inviting colors make you feel like you're right there with her, taking in the moment.

And that's just the beginning, folks!
Stay tuned for more exciting art drops
from the My Homies NFT collection.
We can't wait to see what these talented artists come up with next